TUESDAY, AUGUST 7, 1744.

Warsaw, July 25.

E have, since the Arrival of the Royal Family, been so exceedingly taken up with publick Rejoicings, and the Disposal of Employments, that we have not had Leisure to enquire much into Politicks. But the Approach of the Dyer, which is to be held at Grodno, in September next, has roused us to consider of the State of Poland.

We have, since the Arrival of the Royal Family, been so exceedingly taken up with publick Rejoicings, and the Disposal of Employments, that we have not had Leisure to enquire much into Politicks. But the Approach of the Dyer, which is to be held at Grodno, in September next, has roused us to consider of the State of Poland.

It is now quite another Opinion, inasmuch as it is known, that the French Party, and a very strong one too, is formed against the principal Point aimed at by calling the Dyer. In Words, the Court-Motion will be, That an additional Body of Troops be rais'd, and added to the Crown in order to render the Republick respected by her neighbours. It Support of which, it will be shewn, in several Instances, within these few Years, the Republick has been most grossly insulted, without being able to relieve herself, or even to shew her Resentment, because her Forces were so inconsiderable; and in a Condition, that she would have been scarce a match for the most impotent Enemy. It will be also shewn, on that while she continues in this Condition, she will be necessarily exposed to Domestick Insurrection, and Contempt Abroad; as wanting the Means of formidable either to Subjects, or Strangers. And it will be argued, that if, at this Juncture, the Republick arms, and puts herself in a Posture of Defence, she may, in so critical a Season, find her Account as well as remain absolutely secure from Danger.

such as are of another Sentiment, will not fail to use this Method of Reasoning, by objecting, that the Army of Poland confits in her Freedom at Home, rather than in being Terrible to her Neighbours; that the Division and Factions reigning in the Kingdom, are the true Source of the Difficulties it labours under, and are not like to be composed by augmenting the Army; and that, after all, good Laws, and the King's Presence, will certainly produce all that it is pretended would flow from such an augmentation. But whatever both Sides will, the whole turns at the Bottom upon this; that the Alliance is on the Carpet, in which, if this Augmentation can be carried, in the Dyer, the Republick will take Part; and this Alliance is what the other Party will willingly defeat, from a Suspicion, that if it takes place, it may pave the Way to making this Kingdom unhappy in the present Reigning Family.

Burford, August 7. We celebrated, Yesterday, the Memory of his Imperial Majesty's Birth-Day, with unusual Tokens of Loyalty and Respect. It is known, that the Imperial Court is in a great Ferme-ment, and that some of its Ministers are inclined to think, that a more favourable Opportunity will never occur of making good Terms for the House of Bavaria in the present. Their Councils might possibly recommend the Emperor to change his Systems, if he had not any Expectations on the Side of Prussia; that Monarch has given very late, and very strong Assurances, of keeping all his Engagements; and as a Testimony of Security, appeals to the present Posture of Things in the Dominions, where his Troops are, on every Side, in Motion. Yet we, who have been often deceived by Prussia, lay no great Stress upon this; but are clearly of Opinion, that he waits the Issue of a Battle in Germany, where, if the French should get the better, he were then to extricate us out of our Difficulties; and if they should be beaten, we really count upon his Change; not so much from his Friendship to the Imperial Court, as from his Fear of the House of Austria being too formidable by such a Victory.

London, August 3. We are extremely uneasy here at the present Posture of Affairs, as being thoroughly satisfied, that it is simply impossible for this Kingdom to furnish supplies of Men, and Money, as the present War continues, must necessarily demand. The Command in Germany cannot exceed 30,000 Men; it is very well known, that the Emperor's Forces are very bad Condition. The Army of Prince Charles is only stronger at present, but is increasing, in strength, every Day. In Italy our Forces are Victorious, but have, at the same time, suffered much in the Action, and we have it so little in our Power to reinforce them, that very few People here, are inclined to expect any great Advantages on either Side. In the Low Countries our Forces are very inferior to the Allies, and as we are sensible that the Maritime Powers are able to increase their Army at pleasure, by hiring Forces from several German Princes; it is not to be wondered, that we dread the Event. In the mean time, they talk at Court in a very high Strain, pretend, that Things will suddenly take an extraordinary

Turn, in our Favour, on every Side; and from certain Circumstances, we can easily guess, that it is thought there, the Banishment of M. de la Chetardie will not put an absolute End to the Intrigues, that have been set on Foot in Russia. But we have been so often imposed on by such Pretences, and the M-series of the War are so severely felt by all Kinds of People, that no plausible Stories will now deceive, or any Threats stop the Mouths of the Populace; but as our Discontent is general, so it is louder too, than could be expected here.

The Most Noble, Volatile S MELLING-BOTTLE in the World, lately much improved.

WHICH smelled to, instantly relieved Persons in the most dismal fainting or swooning Fit, and in a Moment removes Flushing, Vapours, Dull-Head-ach, Megrims, &c. It takes off all heavy Sensations, retards Swoonings, keeps up the Spirits to a Racine, and by its Use admits of no Fainting; but invigorates and enlivens the whole Man, recreates and makes cheerful, tho' never so sad, and in a Moment raises all the fainting Faculties.

It is also to be taken inwardly by Drops, which effectually takes off and eradicates the very Cause; for it potently relieves, comforts, and strengthens the Brain, creates and invigorates the Stomach, removes Sickness from it, helps Digestion, cleanses the Blood; and, in a Word, is the greatest Panick, Stomachick, Hepatick, and powerful Aromatick possible.

Whereas many Persons of both Sexes perfume their Handkerchiefs with a few Drops of it, and find that using it so, it is of singular Service in all the Colds above-mentioned; and many Gentlemen, Ladies and Others use it after this Manner, purely because it gives a most fragrant and delectable Odour, that constantly both delights and relieves the Senses, not only better than any thing of a musky Kind (which is really hurtful to most Confinements) but really takes off what such Things do occasion; and also relieves the Head and Brain from any ill Effects of common Snuff, and instantly diverts from, and prevents the bad Consequences of any sudden, nauseous, offensive Smells; which is extremely necessary for all Gentlemen, Ladies, &c. always to be carried in their Pockets.

Sold only at Mrs. Markham's Great Toy-shop, at the Strand, now (since she is removed) directly over-against St. Paul's Church in Fleet-street, and at Mr. King's Pictures in the Poultry, near the Royal Exchange, at 2 s. 6 d. each.
